Lecture Capture in ECON100

• First year Economics module to a diverse audience
• Approximately 720 students
• 3 50 minute lectures per week, each lecture given three times: 10am; 1pm; 2pm
• Lecture Venue: GF1
• Lecture Capture Technology: 1pm lectures
• 4 Lecturers

Comments from Moodle

• “Very useful. Recordings are clear, visual and sound quality is good. I feel that having the ability to pause and repeat parts of lectures which were originally challenging will help improve my understanding.”

• “Found them really useful for revision. Even if you attend the lectures and take notes, it can be very useful to check through the lecture again if there was a specific part you need to clarify.”

• “As I am an international student, some problems of understanding happen in the lecture but I can understand it perfectly after replaying the records.”

• “As I have dislocated my knee and am unable to leave my flat, the recorded lectures have proved not only useful but essential to me being able to keep up with the course. If only all departments used such a system!”
Comments from Questionnaires

• “Incredibly helpful to students with learning disabilities”
• “Every lecture should adopt the lecture recording scheme. If I found a lecture particularly difficult, I can watch it, and pause when necessary to make notes to aid understanding.”
• “The lecture recordings where useful for revision, cause I could pause them and take extra notes. I however get less distracted during real lectures and find them easier to follow. For this reason I have only skipped a couple since the beginning of the year.”
• “As I can be distracted very easily, ..., by watching the lecture recordings, it makes life easier... I can be 100% focused on watching the lecture recordings in my own little space,... The only problem ... is that there is no chance of interacting with the lecturer. However, questions can still be asked during the tutorial section...”
• “I wish the recordings were taken from the centre in the lecture theatre, so that we can see what the lecturer is pointing at on the screen.”
Comments from Module Questionnaires

What were the most important parts of the module?
• “Lecture recordings help when looking back on notes and during revision”
• “The recording facilities have been extremely helpful in assisting with my studies. Can't imagine revision without the recorded lectures.”

How could the module be improved?
• “Because of the success of the video capture I think the 'pace' of the lecture could be sped up to cover more material. The lecturers will repeat points (for emphasis) but this takes up time and with the video if I miss something I know I can always watch it later.”

Final Thoughts

• Students watch lecture recordings
• Students only view parts of lectures
• No obvious effect on lecture attendance
• No obvious effect on participation
• Less use of lecturer office hours
• Increasing usage around successive tests

• Recordings supplement rather than replace lectures
• Recordings encourage independent learning

• Benefit recording 2\textsuperscript{nd} lecture
